

In frozen lands of ice and snow, We lace up our skates and hit the rink to go.

With stick in hand and heart on fire, We fly across the ice, swift and higher.

Puck in play, we chase it down, Our determination never fails to abound.

With fierce competition and mighty cheers, We play the game of hockey with pride and no fear.

From coast to coast, in every town, We celebrate our love for the game, Canadian style, all year round.
